

Emergency Preparation for Your Horse

Basic Equine Emergency Rescue & Trailer Safety Training

What would you do if your horse was inside?

March 27 - 29, 2015

Ashbury University Equine Center, Wilmore KY

This eye-opening and thought provoking training clinic is presented in an audio / visual presentation format with hands-on demonstrations and practical exercises. Attending with your horse benefits you by putting both of you through real-life scenarios.

Experience a mock "barn fire" where you learn how to save your horse, and when it is too late. See how your horse reacts to a firefighter who is trying to save them. And learn confidence building exercises for the horse with a firefighter in full gear. In addition, learn how to prepare your horse so that they are confident with straps / webbing around their body.

Some of the topics covered are trailer accidents, barn and wild fires, incidents on the trail, being stuck in the mud or down a ravine, natural disasters, physical entrapments, cast or down unable to stand, trailer safety and transportation, equine behavior and handling, trailer loading, emergency evacuations, medical considerations and treatment, etc.

By the end of the course, all of the participants will know what tools they need to have in their barn to save a horse, and how to save their horse without panicking, and do it safely.

Participants and Auditors alike receive a manual that includes notes from the presentation, as well as forms to use in an emergency.

Expect the Unexpected...Be able to Respond instead of React!

Asbury University Equine Center (Asbury.edu)
746 Shanty Hill Road, Wilmore KY

$275 with horse or $100 Auditor

$20/day stall for horse

$12 hot entree for lunch

Siobhan Adkins sqkkeley@hotmail.com
(859) 553-0837

Trainings include:

- Confidence Building
- Emergency Trailer Loading
- Barn Fire
- Desensitization to Protective Gear
- Rope and Webbing Manipulation
- Emergency Medical Treatment

*Kelly Sigler is a 3 Star Licensed Parelli Professional and a 1* International Society of Rider Biomechanics Instructor*

Justin & Tori McLeod own and operate North Carolina Specialized Mobile Animal Rescue Team (NC SMART), specializing in the technical rescue of horses

